

Major International Instruments Concerning Intellectual Property Rights

Roll No. : 04,05,06

Date: 16/04/2025

CONTENTS

1. Introduction to IPR

3. Berne Convention, 1886

5. WIPO Convention, 1967

7. TRIPS Agreement, 1994

2. Paris Convention, 1883

4. Universal Copyright Convention,
1952

6. Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT),
1970

8. Conclusion

01

Introduction to IPR

What is IPR?

Intellectual Property Rights protect creations of the mind like inventions, literary works, designs, symbols, names, and images.

Importance of International Protection

👤 Boosts Cultural Exchange Helps protect and distribute artistic and literary works across nations.

📈 Supports Economic Growth Protecting IP leads to investment, job creation, and technological advancement.

🤝 Facilitates International Trade A harmonized IPR system builds trust among trading partners and boosts cross-border economic collaboration.

💡 Encourages Innovation Assures innovators that their rights will be respected globally, motivating research and creativity.

⚖️ Legal Enforcement Across Borders Provides a legal framework to take action against unauthorized use in member countries.

🌐 Global Market Reach Creators and inventors can confidently market their products or works internationally without fear of infringement.

The background is a soft, painterly illustration of a large, snow-covered mountain peak. The sky is a pale, hazy blue with wispy white clouds. At the bottom center, the dark silhouette of a person's head and shoulders is visible, looking up towards the mountain.

02

Paris Convention, 1883

Overview

First major international treaty on industrial property.

Focus on patents, trademarks, and industrial designs.

Ensures national treatment and right of priority.

03

Berne Convention, 1886

Overview

Protects literary and artistic works.

Provides authors rights like reproduction and translation.

Automatic protection in all member countries.

04

Universal Copyright Convention, 1952

Overview

Managed by UNESCO.

Alternative to the Berne
Convention.

Meant for countries not part of Berne.

05

WIPO Convention, 1967

Overview

Established the World Intellectual Property Organization.

UN agency to promote IPR protection worldwide.

Coordinates international treaties and cooperation.

The background of the slide features a soft, artistic illustration. A person, seen from behind, is walking along a light-colored, winding path that leads towards a distant horizon. The path is set against a vast, calm body of water. In the upper left, a bright sun is partially visible, casting a warm, golden glow across the sky and water. The overall color palette is composed of soft blues, whites, and warm yellows, creating a serene and contemplative atmosphere.

06

Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT), 1970

Overview

Simplifies patent application process in multiple countries.

A single international patent application.

Administered by WIPO.

07

TRIPS Agreement, 1994

Overview

Trade-Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights.

Part of WTO agreements.

Sets minimum standards for IP protection and enforcement.

08

Conclusion

Summary

TM

International treaties ensure a uniform framework for IPR.

Promote innovation, trade, and protection of creators' rights.

Encourage global collaboration in protecting IP.

The background of the slide features a soft, pastel-colored landscape. In the foreground, a person with long hair, wearing a light blue coat, is seen from behind, walking along a white, winding path that curves through a blue, hilly terrain. In the distance, a large, bright sun is setting or rising, creating a warm glow. The sky is a mix of light blue and pink. Faint, thin white lines are visible across the background, suggesting a grid or architectural structure.

Thank You

04 | 05 | 06